

“The stone which the builders rejected
Has become the chief corner stone.
This is the LORD’S doing;
It is marvelous in our eyes.
This is the day which the LORD has made;
Let us rejoice and be glad in it.”

Jesus said to Saul of Tarsus on the Damascus road: I am “rescuing you from the Jewish people and from the Gentiles, to whom I am sending you, to open their eyes so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the dominion of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who have been sanctified by faith in Me.”

Quotation of the week:

"Those who brought the charges against Stephen were not honest, and their dishonesty is instructive to us today. Rather than give an honest examination of the teachings of Jesus, those who orchestrated the mob played to the Jews' reverence of their traditions rather than truth. Their own Old Testaments said that the days were coming in which God would make a new covenant with Judah and Israel, but that was counter to the narrative that they wanted to spin in order to inflame the passions of the crowd."

Reasonings from Revelation

Angels and Bowls of Wrath

As the seven angels, seen as standing before the tabernacle of God in heaven, prepare to pour out their bowls of wrath, the plan of God for earth is coming to an end. The tabernacle has filled with the smoke of the glory of God, the final anger of God will be evident, and mankind will still not repent. These seven angels with their bowls are the same seven angels that sounded trumpets in an earlier vision, and there will be parallels between the trumpets and the bowls of wrath. The goal in the trumpets' sounding was to get man to repent; the goal in the bowls of wrath is for the judgments of God to take place on earth.

- First angel – “And the first angel went and poured out his bowl into the earth; and it became a loathsome and malignant sore upon the men who had the mark of the beast and who worshiped his image” (Revelation 16:2). All non-Christians have this mark, and worship this beast. There is nothing good, especially in the spiritual realm, for those outside of Christ, and these “malignant” sores are a reminder of what it means to be without God and without hope.
- Second angel – “And the second angel poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became blood like that of a dead man; and every living thing in the sea died” (Revelation 16:3). In the vision of the trumpets, only a third of the sea became blood; here it is all pictured as turning to blood, as did the Nile when Moses struck it with Egypt’s first plague. Everything dies.
- Third angel – “And the third angel poured out his bowl into the rivers and the springs of waters; and they became blood” (Revelation 16:4). Now the fresh water is pictured as undrinkable and uninhabitable.
- Righteousness of God’s judgments – At this point there is an interlude in the angels’ pouring out their bowls. “And I heard the angel of the waters saying, ‘Righteous are You, who are and who were, O Holy One, because You judged these things; for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and You have given them blood to drink. They deserve it.’” (Revelation 16:5,6). Those who sided with the prince of darkness, by intent or by neglect, poured out the blood of God’s people, so “blood” they get! “And I heard the altar saying, ‘Yes, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are Thy judgments.’” (Revelation 16:7). Even the altar speaks in this vision, commending the righteous God for bringing His last earthly judgments upon the wicked.
- The fourth angel – “And the fourth angel poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given to it to scorch men with fire” (Revelation 16:8). In Egypt in Moses’ day, the water was turned to blood for the first plague; for the last plague before God’s judgment upon Egypt was the sun’s being darkened. Here this is reversed; the sun is pictured as scorching men with fire. “And men were scorched with fierce heat; and they blasphemed the name of God who has the power over these plagues; and they did not repent, so as to give Him glory” (Revelation 16:9). As was Jerusalem in Jeremiah’s day, these people are past even having the desire to repent, no matter what God sends them.
- The fifth angel – “And the fifth angel poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom became darkened; and they gnawed their tongues because of pain, and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they did not repent of their deeds” (Revelation 16:10,11). There are many who have moved in as close as they can to the seat of earthly power, clawing and climbing their way to the top. This judgment of God shows that it was not worth the climb.

Five angels have poured out their bowls of wrath on the earth, showing that dependence upon anything in the material realm is a major error. These people have gone beyond the point of repentance. Anyone who can read this still has time!

As it was in Jeremiah’s day, these people are past even having the desire to repent!
