

“For the day of the LORD draws near on all the nations.
As you have done, it will be done to you.
Your dealings will return on your own head...
But on Mount Zion there will be those who escape,
And it will be holy.”

Rest for the Weary

Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and
I will give you rest.
Matthew 11:28, NIV

Quotation of the week:

“The All Wise and caring God has many things for the Christian. Among others, He offers full release from sins, the indwelling Holy Spirit, a resurrection body, and eternal life and fellowship with Him. These, of course, come through Christ. ‘For as many as may be the promises of God,’ asserts Paul, ‘in Him they are “yes”’ (2 Corinthians 1:20). Because God in His love and mercy has offered these promises to the disciple of Christ, ‘we have boldness and confident access through faith in Him’ (Ephesians 3:12). God is not trying to be stingy with what He awards His children; but He does want them to reach for them in ever increasing faith — faith as designed by the Bible.” -- Comfort/Encouragement from 2 Corinthians, “Amen to the Glory of God”

Reasonings from Revelation

“The Time Is Near”

The picture given in the visions to the apostle John has been completed. The forces unleashed on earth have been mentioned, God’s open door of repentance has been offered to mankind and refused, the judgments of God upon Babylon, the beast and the false prophet, the dragon, and upon men have been detailed, and the final picture of the holy city, the eternal Jerusalem, has been painted. The saints who have overcome see God’s face and reign with Him forever! What follows in the rest of the book of Revelation is a series of wrap-up encouragements and injunctions.

- Taking effect immediately – One of the seven angels who had the bowls of wrath became John’s personal tour guide in the final stages of the book of Revelation. Speaking of the entire series of visions which John had seen, the angel noted, “These words are faithful and true” (Revelation 22:6). The angel then added, “...and the Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent His angel to show to His bond-servants the things which must shortly take place.” The events which were about to unfurl in the world at the time that Revelation was written (to the seven existing churches of Asia) would engulf the saints of the first century. It was important for them to be aware of the Lord’s warnings about their time so that they would not think of the entire book only referred to things in their distant future. The angel further stated to John, “Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near” (Revelation 22:10). Since the book obviously covers the Day of Judgment and beyond, the “near” time is “beginning” about 100 AD.
- Jesus’ insert – In the closing wrap-up, Jesus Himself has a couple of insertions to encourage the brethren in their faithfulness. “And behold, I am coming quickly,” states the Christ in the first one of these. “Blessed is he who heeds the words of the prophecy of this book” (Revelation 22:7). It is a continuing point of emphasis in Revelation that Jesus is coming quickly, and saints are to be ready for that return. And to “heed” the words; hear and put into action!
- John and the angel (again) – John once again shows up in his own vision. “And I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. And when I heard and saw, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who showed me these things” (Revelation 22:8). He had tried that once before and was told not worship the angel, but the awesomeness of what the angel had been showing him must have triggered that falling down in prostration before the angelic messenger. “And he said to me, ‘Do not do that; I am a fellow servant of yours and of your brethren the prophets and of those who heed the words of this book; worship God.’” (Revelation 22:9). Only God is worthy of worship; angels, greater in power and might than man, are content to be “fellow servants.”

“Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me...”

The words of this prophetic book are not to be sealed up for a later time like Daniel’s were; they were to be delivered and understood. “The time is near.” The time is soon coming when men will not be able to change, when they are set and fixed in their ways and their thought patterns. Men now can still repent, but the warning is here that the time is coming when it is too late, when the words of this passage take full effect: “Let the one who does wrong, still do wrong; and let the one who is filthy, still be filthy; and let the one who is righteous, still practice righteousness; and let the one who is holy, still keep himself holy” (Revelation 22:11). If changes are necessary, make them now! If righteousness and holiness are being practiced now, maintain those, following the upward call of God in Christ Jesus!

“Behold, I am coming quickly, and My reward is with Me, to render to every man according to what he has done” (Revelation 22:12).
